

UNI SNOW GAMES 2009 – DAY ONE

Weather Causes Cancellation!

For the first time in Uni Snow Games history weather has forced the cancellation of the first day of competition.

Strong winds eventually forced the closure of Cardrona Ski Resort despite the venues initial optimism of being able to go ahead.

The Boarder and Skier Giant Slalom, proudly supported by Camp Counsellors USA, and the Skier Slalom were all scheduled to take place today, but as competitors prepared to head up to the course, strong winds brought the chair lifts to a halt.

University Sport New Zealand (USNZ) staff are working with the venue to consider programme options over the next few days. It is hoped that the Giant Slalom event can be rescheduled for later in the week.

In the meantime, fingers crossed for better weather tomorrow for the Skier and Boarder Cross at Cardrona!
