

UNI SNOW GAMES 2009 – DAY THREE

2009 Uni Snow Games Continues To Make History!

After the awesome day of speed and thrills at the Gravity Cross yesterday, students were all set to crack into the freestyle events today at Snow Park. But, for the second time in Uni Snow Games history, the mountain was forced to close due to high winds and snow, and events had to be called off.

Unfortunately the first time in Uni Snow Games history that events have been called off due to weather was just 48 hours earlier, when the GS and Slalom events scheduled to be held at Cardrona on Sunday were called off because of the same atrocious weather conditions that hit again today.

Event and mountain staff are praying for an improvement in conditions tomorrow with today's Half Pipe and Slopestyle events moved to Wednesday to join the Big Air and Cross Country Skiing events. The schedule will be tight but if the weather holds out, it will be a fantastic day of tricks and skill as boarders and skiers take to the air!

For more information and a full list of results visit www.universitysport.org.nz

University Snow Games 2009 proudly supported by:

